

FOODDAY

THE BEST AT THE MARKET, IN YOUR KITCHEN, AND ON YOUR TABLE

MARKET BASKET

By CHERI SWOBODA | THE OREGONIAN

It's a known fact that everything tastes better outdoors. And – hurrah – the alfresco season is finally here. Whether it's a backyard barbecue, a picnic or a getaway in the family RV, you'll want dishes that are unbreakable and lightweight, yet still have some style going on. We collected a clutch of colorful pieces, including weather-resistant place mats, serving tray and glasses, unbreakable salad bowl, storage containers and reusable dishes. Not only will your spread look spectacular, but you'll also be saving trees.

FAITH CATHCART/THE OREGONIAN

Cold play | Send your little camper packing with Fit & Fresh Lunch On The Go. The large container holds a sandwich or salad, while the two smaller containers can hold fruits and veggies. Everything's kept cold by the super-thin ice pack that sits in the middle. $9.99 at Albertsons or www.fit-fresh.com.
